

Turves Green Primary School Newsletter

26TH SEPTEMBER 2025

Hello parents and carers,

I hope this newsletter finds you all well - we have had a wonderful week of learning here at Turves Green Primary School.

Our Pupil Parliament travelled to London on a visit to the actual Houses of Parliament! They had a fantastic time and represented our school superbly!

We have had some wonderful PE lessons taking place with our expert cricket coach from Worcester University. This week he has been working with years 4 and 6 to hone their skills - maybe we will soon have our own Turves Green cricket team!

On the note of PE, just a gentle reminder from myself that students should wear a plain white top with black/navy shorts or joggers for PE lessons. We've noticed a few football shirts being worn recently, which aren't in line with our uniform policy. If you're finding it difficult to get hold of any part of the PE kit, please reach out to us—we're more than happy to support where possible.

Lastly, today is National Teaching Assistant Day! We would like to thank all of our wonderful teaching assistants for all their hard work in our school - you are amazing!

Have a wonderful weekend,

Take care,

Mr Lewis
Head of School

Composer of the week

Scott Joplin (1867-1917):

Today, birthdays are very carefully recorded, but no one knows for sure exactly when Scott Joplin was born. According to the United States census taken in July of 1870, Scott Joplin was two years old. And no one is sure where Joplin was born, either – it was probably in northeast Texas.

Scott Joplin's father was born into slavery in North Carolina; his mother was a freeborn woman from Kentucky. Both his parents were musical. When his parents separated, Scott's mother supported the family by cleaning houses, and he was allowed to use the piano in one of those houses. He taught himself to play.

As a teenager, Joplin started traveling. In Missouri, he played piano in saloons; for the 1893 World's Fair, he headed to Chicago, and played cornet in a band. After spending some time in college, Joplin moved on to St. Louis, the hotbed of ragtime music. Eventually, he wound up in New York City.

Scott Joplin wrote some songs and stage works, but he's best known as one of the greatest composers of piano rags. In 1976 – almost 60 years after Scott Joplin died – his opera Treemonisha was awarded a Pulitzer Prize.

Outdoor Play and Learning

It's that time of year again where we start to collect more items for our children to play with outside at breaktimes and lunchtimes. Last year, we had some fantastic donations from many families in our school community. Thank you so much for that!

Next week, we would like to ask children if they have any Lego, dinosaurs, vehicles or dolls that they no longer play with to be donated for all to enjoy. It might help you have a little bit of a clear out too. Teachers will also share this information with children. They should bring the donations into class with them. Let's see which classroom can cross off the whole BINGO card.
