

Turves Green Primary School Newsletter

30TH SEPTEMBER 2022

Dear everyone,

It is always so interesting to end our week on a Flexi Friday and to see all the creative ways the children are learning new information. This week we have seen Egyptian death masks, additions to the Bayeux tapestry. From biscuit making to detail line drawings of Roman emperors. The teachers carefully plan these days to deepen the children's knowledge and skills of the topics they are learning. I think the children all agree how enjoyable they are even when they are 'disgusting!' This is what one Year 3 child felt about the feel of the glue whilst making papier mache. We are pleased that the number of children in Key Stage 2 completing their maths homework is increasing on Mathletics however, there are still about half of the children that are not completing the tasks set by their teacher. Should you have any difficulties accessing Mathletics or Times Tables Rock stars please email our enquiry email and someone will get back to you to support.

The children have been participating in one of the important British Values todayDemocracy. Over the last few weeks they have held hustings ,children have given their thoughts as to why they should be the next school councillor for their class. The ballot boxes were out today and the children all went to vote and the new school council will be announced shortly. The next voting to take place will be for our new eco council. Miss Clee will keep us up to date on what the councils plans are for this school year.

I hope the weather improves for the weekend and you all get a chance to do something you enjoy.

Inclusion News

How smaller steps in learning are effective to help all children achieve the learning outcomes of their lessons, we plan for smaller steps as required. This does not mean that the outcome changes, but just the path the learning takes may be different. This image demonstrates beautifully how we help all children to achieve.

Themed Lunch

We have a special Circus themed lunch on Thursday 6th October (full menu shown below). If you child would like this lunch they should let there teachers know during the morning lunch register.

Harvest Festival

We will be once again be donating food to the local B30 Food Bank as part of our Harvest celebrations this year. Please see Friday's email with the full details attached!
