

Dear Everyone,

Everybody looked amazing today dressed in their red, white and blue clothing and as prince and princesses. The school kitchen made a lunch fit for royalty and this was enjoyed by all the children who had a hot meal today.

We have received some fantastic entries for the design a stamp competition and are looking forward to announcing the winners next week. Keep an eye on our website, where we will be creating a special gallery to showcase the wonderful artistic creations.

Have a great Coronation weekend whatever you choose to do. To all our year 6 children, make sure you take the extra day to relax and unwind. Don't worry about next week, just show up and do the fabulous work we know you are all more than capable of doing!

We are a water only school. This means that fizzy drinks, hydration drinks and energy drinks are not permitted in school. Children should drink their water from a school water bottle. If you need a replacement, please contact the school office.

To keep everyone safe, we ask that children do not play football on the playground before school or at the end of the school day.

Inclusion Corner Focus on.... SEND Terminology

In the world of Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) there are lots of acronyms used. To many families and professionals (even those working in the field!), these can be baffling. Below is a list of SEND terms to help guide you through the SEND jungle!
